ALLIES TO USE
DRASTIC PLANS TO COLLECT SUM

New Situation Calls For Extreme Measures Is Belief.
NOTE IS CONSIDERED
Coal Mines In Ruhr District May Be Seized.

Paris, March 23.—The new situation created by the allies' indemnity demands on Germany and Germany's claims for all Upper Silesia probably will result in an early conference of the inter allied supreme council at which France will demand final drastic measures to compel German obedience, it was reliably reported today. The allied reparations commission held a meeting to consider the German note, rejecting the allies ultimatum that Germany pay one billion gold marks immediately. Germany not only refused to pay the one billion gold marks but contended that the allies were wrong in their contention that Germany owes any of the twenty billion gold marks due from her before May under the terms of the treaty of Versailles.

It is understood that the reparations commission will confer with the various allied governments before there is a decisive decision, but there are persistent reports that further sanctions will be authorized including seizure of coal mines in the Ruhr district and of German industries.

The German embassy in Paris is most insistent that Germany will not pay another cent of indemnity until the differences or the amount already paid by Berlin has been cleared up. The German government claims more than 20,000,000,000 gold marks have been paid. The claim is made that Germany has paid about 8,000,000,000 gold marks and still owes approximately 12,000,000,000 gold marks.

The Germans claim that the surrendered German tonnage should be charged off on the books at the rate of seventy two francs which was the value at the time the ships were surrendered.

England computed the value of the shipping at 17 francs the present valuation placed upon it.

MUTINY CHARGED
AGAINST FIVE MEN
TAKEN FROM SHIP

Quintet Will Be Questioned
On Disaster In Wall Street.

New Orleans, March 23.—Department of justice officials here today declared five men taken off the United States Shipping board steamer Rushville are being held on a charge of mutiny on the high seas and not in connection with the explosion in Wall street, New York, which caused 39 deaths and injury to a number of persons last September. The quintet they said will be questioned in an effort to find out if they know something of the disaster, but that, they said, is a proceeding always followed with men arrested.

The five were arrested aboard the U. S. Shipping board ship City of Alton, it was declared here, when they demanded that they be paid off at Rio De Janeiro in American money instead of Brazilian.

The men were placed in irons aboard the Munson liner Ayro to be sent back to the United States, but they raised a rumpus and were transferred to the U. S. Shipping board steamer Rushville, which brought them to this port.

The captain of the Rushville expressed surprise when informed of reports that the men were held in connection with the Wall street explosion.

U. S. LEADS RELIEF
WORK DONATIONS

Rome, March 23.—Pope Benedict XV has received nearly eight million lire (approximately $1,600,000) for relief of the child war sufferers of Europe with the United States leading in the list of contributors. It was semi-officially announced today. The pope's appeal for the juvenile war sufferers was sent out from the Vatican some time ago and the response was instantaneous it was said.

WAR IN IRELAND
REACHES LARGER
PLANE THAN BEFORE

Nearly Sixty Persons Have Been Killed In Seventy
Two Hours.

Dublin, March 23.—Nearly three score persons have been killed in Ireland in the past 72 hours and the death list is mounting more rapidly than at any other time since fighting became severe.

Since Sunday 21 soldiers, 9 police and 10 Republicans have been killed. In addition 18 others who had no direct connection with either the crown forces or the Sinn Fein met death.

More than 100 persons were wounded.

Among the wounded were a woman and a child who were struck by flying bullets during an ambush of crown forces in this city at 9 o'clock last night. Both were said to be dying this morning.

Two brothers named Skelton were found dead in a field near Ennisceorthy. Both had been shot through the head. The arms were bound and upon the breast of each was a card reading:

"A convicted spy."

The men had evidently been members of the Republican army but had been convicted by a Sinn Fein court martial of giving information to the British military and police authorities.

C. OF C. SECRETARY
BEHIND MOVEMENT
FOR BUYING EVENT

That there may be a huge spring carnival in the nature of a merchandizing event, held here, this spring by Xenia merchants, was the outcome of a meeting of a number of retailers held at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning at the call of Secretary P. J. Slackford.

The meeting was called by Mr. Slackford to consider plans for some sort of stimulant to spring activities, and the proposition of the spring carnival or business revival was met favorably with by the merchants who were present.

Within the next few days, Secretary Slackford will mail out letters to each of the retail merchants asking their ideas concerning the spring carnival and they are urged to answer as soon as possible, in order to put the committee to work on the plan.

MODIFY ATTITUDE

Scheme Is For Purpose Of Maintaining Peace Of World.

Paris, March 23.—The cornerstone of a new triple "association of nations"—the United States, England and France—may be laid at Washington by former Premier Viviani, now en route to America on a special mission to see President Harding. M. Viviani is due to reach New York on Sunday.

The view of a possible new "society of powers" was set forth today by Henry Franklin-Bouillon, former member of the French cabinet, and until recently chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies. M. Franklin-Bouillon feels that under no circumstances will the United States enter the league of nations or link herself in military alliance with her two big allies in the recent war. But he does believe that the three powers can co-operate effectively to maintain the peace of the world.

"Sending M. Viviani to the United States on such a special mission may contribute to modify America's attitude toward Europe," said M. Franklin-Bouillon.

"Let us hope so but let us realize that this task is a hard one. The evil done by the treaty of Versailles is so profound that it is difficult to see how it can be repaired."

"The system adopted at Versailles reposed on the league of nations and on the French-Anglo-American pact, from the financial point of view the league of nations does not exist. No measure providing for inter-allied aid has ever been studied. No credit has been opened or even promised for the resumption of our economic activity."

"From the political point of view the league of nations should guarantee to the signatories of the covenant the frontiers fixed by the treaty of Versailles. But one does not even dare speak of this stipulation. In any case the triple defensive alliance proposed during the peace conference has no real value unless America and England formally subscribe to it."

"Now that the work of Versailles is definitely abandoned in America we must return to reality and reason. It is useless to count upon an alliance; let us try to organize co-operation. Between the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon family, representing the United States and England, France should be the uniting link."

"There is the task to which our statesmen should set themselves at work if they wish to repair the dangers of yesterday and avoid the dangers of tomorrow. I hope that the voyage of M. Viviani will be the first evidence of this new policy which the treaty of Versailles, under the pretext of hastening, only delayed."

OFFICIALS FRANKLY
SKEPTICAL ABOUT
TRADE WITH RUSSIA

Nation Has Not Received
Appeal From Soviet
For Resumption

Washington, March 23.—President Harding has not received the appeal which reported the soviet government of Russia has forwarded to him urging that United States resume trade relations with Russia. It was officially announced at the White House today. The president will refer the appeal if it comes to the state department for action, it was announced.

While administration officials were cautious about commenting today on an appeal from Moscow for a resumption of Russian-American trade relations, it was indicated that the position of the United States is similar to that of the Missouriian: "Show me."

Officials are frankly skeptical about tales of enormous amounts of Russian gold being available for purchases abroad. Figures in the possession of some officials show that the Russians instead of being plentifully supplied with gold and other valuables are in reality about "broke," whether these figures are accurate is not known, but it is the view of high officials of the administration that there can be no resumption of trade with Russia until she produces something more tangible than talk to back up her desire to trade.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

OF HEART ACTION

Alarm Felt Over the Condition of Prelate
Wednesday.

Baltimore, Md., March 23.—Alarm was again felt early today over the condition of Cardinal Gibbons which is reported to have taken a decided turn for the worse. Prayers for the cardinal have been asked in all churches of the arch-diocese for next Sunday.

The prelate has been confined to his bed since Sunday when he suffered a relapse of heart action and became weaker, with his temperature falling to a serious degree.

No marked improvement is reported in the cardinal's condition during the last 24 hours. Attending physicians, while declaring there is no immediate danger to the patient, admit that the situation is not encouraging. Cardinal Gibbons was stricken while delivering a sermon at Harve De Grace, December 12 last, and late in 1920 and early in 1921 grave fears were entertained for his recovery. He rallied however, and during the past six weeks had been able to take automobile rides.

He has walked little, however, and most of his time indoors has been spent in his wheel chair or lying on a couch.

DAUGHERTY WILL

WILL PLACE IT ON A "PEACE FOOTING" HE DE-CLARES

Washington, March 23.—Attorney General Daugherty has decided to reduce the department of justice to a "peace footing." War agencies built up as part of the legal machinery are to be abolished.

Judge Vernon Vanfleet of South Bend, Ind., designated by the attorney general as department reorganizer, today began the task of dismantling some of the routine branches which were devoted to war activity. Attorney General Daugherty said substantial economies will be effected in the course of reorganization.

Visit Of General Wood May Be Used As Initial Part Of Program To Develop Manila As A Great Seaport.

Washington, March 23.—The attention of Major General Leonard Wood is expected to be called upon his arrival in the Philippines, to the possibilities of Manila as the future center of the shipping interests of the Pacific.

Plans have already been worked out by the United States shipping board and other American shipping interests it was learned today, for making Manila one of the greatest ports of call in the world and the success or failure of these plans may depend to a great degree upon the report to be rendered by General Wood and former Governor W. Cameron Forbes, second member of the commission.

While the program of the shipping board has not been brought officially to the attention of Secretary of War Weeks, the war department was represented on an inter departmental committee which recently made a detailed study of the Philippine question and Secretary Weeks stated today that Gen. Wood's report would deal comprehensively with the possible development of Manila as a great shipping center.

Gen. Wood is understood to have had access to report of the inter

Mosbach, Germany, March 23.—Frank Zimmer and Carl Neaf, the American detectives from the United States army of occupation on the Rhine who were arrested in connection with their attempt to seize Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, at Elberbach, Germany, were found guilty and given prison sentences today. Neaf was sentenced to 15 months, Zimmer to six months. The three German accomplices were sentenced to eleven, ten and six months respectively. The American detectives were charged with unlawful shooting and felonious assault.

During the taking of testimony on Tuesday, Bergdoll, the millionaire draft dodger, was a witness and told of the efforts of the detectives to kidnap him.

REPORT HORSE AND RIG WERE STOLEN

Police recovered a horse and buggy reported stolen from in front of the Fetz Bros. grocery on South Detroit street Saturday night.

The horse and buggy belonged to J. L. Fawcett of Maple Corner. The horse was found on Whiteman street, and taken to a livery stable, while the buggy was recovered on the Columbus pike where it had overturned and been damaged. An auto robe, horse blanket and overcoat which were in the rig were not recovered.

U. S. PROBE
CLAIMS AGAINST GREAT BRITAIN

Silence Of England Will Lead To Action By America

DATA SUBMITTED

Subject Will Be Opened
In Senate In Near Future.

Washington, March 23.—Great Britain's persistent silence regarding claims growing out of her seizure of American vessels, goods and mails and of her interference with American trade both before and after the entry of the United States into the world war is being quietly investigated by Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee it was disclosed today.

The whole subject probably will be opened up in the senate at the earliest opportunity. A mass of papers bearing upon it are now in the committee's possession, having been furnished by former Secretary of State Colby on the eve of his retirement from office in response to a senate resolution sponsored by Senator Lodge, Republican of Massachusetts, the committee chairman which called upon the state department for full information respecting American claims against the British government.

An examination of these papers just completed by Senator Lodge revealed that although Colby had officially inquired of the British government as long ago as August 18, of last year, as to what it proposed to do with respect to the adjustment of American claims, no final reply had ever been received by him. He indicated that though most of the claims had been outstanding since before the American declaration of war against Germany, efforts of the state department to effect a settlement of them had proven unavailing. In a communication addressed to Senator Lodge under date of March 3, and made public today, Mr. Colby stated:

"For obvious reasons American claims for compensation were not pressed against the British government during the war. In a communication dated August 18, 1920, inquiry was made if the British government were prepared to enter into argument for a reciprocal adjustment of claims growing out of acts of American and British authorities incident to the war. No final reply has been received from the British government to that communication."

Attached to Colby's communication were copies of the voluminous correspondence exchanged by the state department with the British foreign office in a vain effort during and after American participation in the world war to obtain from the British government some final decision regarding American claims.

WOULD ABOLISH
UNIFORM RULE BUT
AVOID NEW PLAN

House Committee To Introduce Another Resolution.

Columbus, O., March 23.—The house taxation committee today is expected to introduce a resolution proposing adoption at the November election of an amendment to the state constitution abolishing the uniform rule of taxation but seeking to prevent classification of property as commonly interpreted. The resolution, it is said, will be in line with the recommendations made by Gov. Davis' recent citizens' committee.

For the second time within a few days, the house defeated the bill by Rep. Robinson, Lawrence county, providing for seizure by tax officials of part of the property not returned for taxation. The bill, when defeated last week provided for a 50 percent confiscation. When it reached another vote on the question of reconsideration the percentage of confiscation was cut in two. This bill failed, however to receive a constitution majority, 63, the vote being 59 to 47. The vote last week was 54 to 54.

The house passed the Wenner bill, amending the workmen's compensation act so as to provide compensation for workers afflicted with occupational diseases. The bill goes to the senate.

Having passed the house, the Dunn bill, providing for carrying on Americanization work, goes to the senate.

FORGED CHECKS
USED TO BUILD
UP HIS ACCOUNT

Denver, March 23.—Abram Zetter, youthful philanthropist played the "good samaritan" to a dozen or more needy families here while he accumulated a substantial bank account through forged checks.

Police arrested Zetter today on a charge of forgery, alleging that he tendered forged $10 and $15 checks in payment for $2 or $3 worth of groceries, receiving the balance in cash.

Zetter deposited the groceries on the doorstep of some poor families after he had investigated their circumstances.

OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick

Convention at Van Wert

Van Wert is to be the hostess city for the annual spring conference of the Northwest district April 19 and 20. This announcement has just been made by Mrs. Charles Hess, Postoria, district vice president for the Middle East district conference at New Philadelphia, April 12 and 13, dates having previously been announced. Mrs. G. W. Hixson, Cambridge, district vice president, announces that the opening session will be at 1:30 p. m. in the Bronx hall where all sessions are to be held. In the evening a musicale will be given by representatives from all the clubs of the district under the direction of Miss Helen Virtue, Martins Ferry, music chairman of the Middle East district. A reception will follow for Mrs. William H. Sharp, Columbus, state federation president and other Ohio officers and guests. The morning program Wednesday will open promptly at 9:15 o'clock.

A Popular Study Now

Mrs. J. B. Langhry, Ellyria, state chairman of the home economics committee, has arranged a program "with an eye single to the aim" of promoting among homemakers a wider and more scientific knowledge of the material needs of the family. Her plan is based on the belief that first, homemaking is a definite vocation, second, study of the home as an institution; third, women must be educated and trained for this vocation; fourth, the increase in number of home economic departments in schools; fifth, study and support of bills before congress relating to the vocation of homemaking and allied subjects and endorsed by the state and general federations.

Youngstown Wideawake

Plans for future activities at Youngstown ought to furnish splendid ideas for club women everywhere. Better housing, finding out how the other half lives, supervision and regulation of dance halls, improving social conditions generally, more settlement houses for Americanization and group social work, better health safeguards, sanitary conditions of the city, a full time health officer—these are only a few of the many movements inaugurated and to be inaugurated by Youngstown club women. They say that with the help of other philanthropic and welfare organizations they mean to see that better moving pictures are shown in their city. Youngstown has fifty clubs with a total membership of 3,000.

Ohio Federation Notes

Kent has a new club. It is the Woman's club and was organized March 5 with sixty-four members. The charter list will number 100. It is a departmental club.

Cleveland boasts 40,000 club women.

Lakewood federation has opened a day nursery.

The district convention at Kent unanimously endorsed house bill No. 14 prohibiting immoral and crime-suggesting moving pictures.

Parliamentary club work particularly is appealing now. Cleveland has a parliamentary law club. Many of the clubs of the Forest City pay the membership fee for their presidents to become members of the parliamentary club. Mrs. Cornelius S. Selover, Cleveland, parliamentarian for the state federation is a member. Mrs. Selover wants every club in the state to give at least fifteen minutes of its program next year to a discussion of parliamentary law.

A special outline has been prepared on American Citizenship by Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, General federation chairman of the citizenship committee. Copies may be procured free by communicating with General federation headquarters, Maryland building, Washington.

Healthful Bowels Better Than Cathartic Habit

(Wednesday Health Talk No. 28.)
(By G. C. DONOHOO, D. C.)

Where the bowels are healthful, even the person of sedentary habits finds it easy to overcome the bad effects of overeating or other errors in following the god of appetite. But wherever there is a person who has the cathartic habit, or who must continually resort to artificial measures to keep rid of food wastes, the cause will be found to be in the spine.

Misplaced joints of the backbone at what is known as "liver place" will cause pressure on spinal nerves to the liver and sluggish action by that organ is a natural result. Chiropractic spinal adjustments restoring the alignment of the joints, frees the pinch on the liver place nerves, and with normal nerve vigor restored, Nature is able to take care of herself without artificial aid.

RID OF A LOAD OF ILLS

"Constipation was chronic. I had diphtheria. At times my feet were numb and my legs nearly paralyzed. Nothing I could do made me feel well. I was skeptical of chiropractic, but the first effect of the adjustments was to make cathartics unnecessary. I owe chiropractic for a renewed body and health."—Lyman Smith, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Stamen, 1241M.

TWO—BIG FEATURES—TWO

Oh How Glorious to Be Free From Rheumatism's Tortures!

Just suppose you could be free from your deep-seated, agonizing rheumatic aches and pains, your stiff joints and unsightly swellings! Wouldn't you give anything to get rid of them?

You have doubtless rubbed on outside treatments; most rheumatism sufferers have. Some of these take the edge off the terrible pains for a few hours, but they do not strike at the cause, which nearly always lies in the poisoned, impoverished blood. When this is so, you need an internal remedy, one that will take out the impurities that are torturing you, one like famous S.S.S., which has relieved thousands of cases of rheumatism all over the country just this way.

Get S.S.S. from your druggist today, and after starting with it write us a history of your case, addressing Chief Medical Advisor, 877 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

GUN CLUB BEGINS WEEKLY SHOTS ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Weekly shoots at the gun range of the Xenia Country Club will be inaugurated Thursday, according to the announcement of C. A. Weaver, chairman of the gun club committee.

The shoots will be open to all members and a few of their friends temporarily, and all will be given the opportunity to practice in the shooting events at the clay birds, on each Thursday in the week.

The plan of holding the shooting events on Thursday of each week, will be continued until the merchants arrange for their regular weekly half-holiday. The weekly shoots will then be made to comply with that day, so that members can devote their half holidays at the range.

The gun club made itself evident early in the winter when it arranged for a state wide shoot, that proved successful, and it is proven that this branch of the country Club's activities at least are proving popular.

Bad weather, that has prevented painting and interior decorations, and the almost impassable condition of the lane leading to the Country Club grounds, has delayed the opening of the Club. With the present fine weather, the work is progressing rapidly, and an early opening is insured. Decorators are now at work on the building, the lane has been made solid with cinders, and a great part of the golf links has been ploughed up, preparatory to planting grass seed for the greens. The nine-hole course will be laid out early in the spring. Already, however, a number of enthusiasts have been busy knocking the ball around the lot, practicing their stance and swing for the summer play.

TAXATION EXPERT URGES SUBSTITUTION OF ONE PER CENT TAX ON GROSS SALES

W. H. Stackhouse In Address Before Chamber Of Commerce Proposes Change From Complicated System Of Governmental Tax.

The substitution of a one per cent tax on all gross sales, in place of the present complicated system of excess profits and surtaxes, is the proposal of W. H. Stackhouse, Springfield manufacturer and tax authority, who spoke at the March banquet of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

Mr. Stackhouse, has made an exhaustive study of the taxation problems of the present, and he was recently honored by being called to St. Augustine, Fla., into conference with President Warren G. Harding on taxation matters. It is interesting to note that the President allowed Mr. Stackhouse 45 minutes of his time, and that the conference was terminated by the latter.

In putting forth his proposal of a one per cent gross sales tax, Mr. Stackhouse proposed the repeal of the present corporation excess profits tax and the reduction of the present surtax, by the sixty-seventh Congress which goes into session April 11. The loss of revenue through this source he said, could be easily made up by the establishment of the one per cent gross sales tax, which means the taxing of one per cent on all gross sales, pyramided down from manufacturer to retailer, and to purchaser or consumer, which plan he says, would much more simplify the present taxing system.

Included in Mr. Stackhouse's plan for a future tax system, is the reversal of the present plan to make the present generation pay the burden of the war debt, by excessive taxes, that can be distributed, through a little work in changes, to cover this, and the next two generations, making

THURSDAY NIGHT WILL BE "ODD NITE" AT OPERA HOUSE

Thursday night will be "Odd Nite" at the Opera House, when the Classes of 1921 and 1923, the odd numbered classes of Central High School, will each present a one-act playlet for the benefit of the Central High Review.

The Class of 1923 will present first "The Blackville Married Happiness Society," advertised as a "mixture of color and expression," with William Miller as the president, Francis Conside as the secretary and the following members taking part: Alicia Monroe, Matilda Bailey, Loren Whittington, Herbert Patterson, Josephine Wolf, Frederick Schell, Martha Dinwiddie, Frances Wead, Louise Keyes, James Anderson, Pauline Smith, Mabel St. John, Robert Shaw, Donald Finley, Helen Wike, Ruth Charters, Leona Heaton, Thelma Houk, Lucille Meahl, Lois Simison, Lawrence Tiffany and Robert Ballentyne.

The Class will also present a one-act comedy "West of Omaha," in which the characters are taken by the following, Horace Smith, John Wood, Roger Lynn, Donald Currie, Helen Hurley, Grace Jones and Mary McPadden.

The Class of 1921, the Senior Class, will present a one-act comedy of domestic life entitled "Her Busy Day," the characters being Ruth Whittington, Marjorie Douthett, Olivia Cost, Mamie Burrell, Frances Loyd, Ralph Donges, Lewis McCoy, Phillip Moore, Nelson Barnes, Tom Kennedy and John Moore. The same class will present a novelty sketch, "The Crystal Gazer," advertised as "a fantasy of the future," with Misses Laura Downs and Hetty Holman, taking the parts.

Kenneth Hudson and William Davidson, are the stage and property managers for the Seniors and Richard LeSourd for the Sophomores. The performance will start promptly at eight o'clock.

Here Mr. Stackhouse ridiculed the present system of tax collection, declaring that it costs 25 millions of dollars a year to collect five or six billions, and probably 100 million more to the taxpayers, to have their forms prepared correctly. He said the only beneficiaries of this plan, were the large horde of expert accountants who were able to make out the income tax return blanks.

"It is clear that if the war debt is liquidated in 60 years, the people's yearly contribution will be only one-half," said the speaker. "If this saving is combined with some real economy down in Washington our taxation costs will be several billion dollars less."

In concluding, Mr. Stackhouse said, "Give my suggestions what ever consideration you consider them worth. However, study this vastly important, though not romantic subject, and when you reach a conclusion, express them to your representative in Congress."

MONDAY FIRST DAY OF SPRING

Monday was the first day of spring! This is published for fear some people do not know it. The season came in disguised so effectively that even its own mother, being no other than Mother Nature, would not know her.

Chilly blasts proved blasted chilly, to early birds, seeking early crows, who had been vamped by the perfectly lady like weather of Sunday, and had removed heavy underwear for light and almost unawares. All of which is anent the fact that the last and final sign is with us, despite the wicked weather. A season booster appeared on the streets Saturday wearing a straw hat!

FORMER RESIDENT OF GREENE COUNTY DIES AT MARYSVILLE

Frank Young, former Greene Countyman, and until recently Superintendent of Schools at Richwood Ohio, died Monday at the state sanitarium in Marysville, Ohio, following continued nervous disorders.

Mr. Young had suffered considerably from nervous trouble, and was suffering from a recent attack when he had to be cared for at police headquarters here temporarily, until friends placed him in a private sanitarium at Columbus. From there he was removed to the Marysville Sanitarium last week.

Mr. Young was not born in Greene County but had spent most of his life in Cedarville graduating from the High School and from Cedarville College in 1904. He was considered exceedingly bright, and was successful as an educator. He was at one time superintendent of the Sugar Creek township schools in this county, and later taught at Waynesville, Peebles, Ohio, and in the High School at Van Wert. He had been located at Richwood, O., as superintendent of schools until the time of his illness.

His wife, who was formerly Miss Bess Williams of Yellow Springs, survives him with three children, Paul, Faith and Don, all living at Richwood. His parents are both dead and his nearest surviving relative in this section, is Mrs. G. Y. Winter a cousin, of South King St. The funeral services will be held at Richwood Thursday afternoon at two o'clock and will be attended by Mrs. Winter and her daughter, Mrs. Olive Bumgarner.

ODD FELLOWS TO PLAY APRIL 11

Newton Beers, of Chicago, prominent impersonator and entertainer was present at the meeting of the Xenia Lodge No. 52 of the I. O. O. F., Tuesday night, and was engaged by the Order to give one of his famous monologues, in which Mr. Beers takes the part of several different characters. The title of the piece is "Th Shephrd and in King," and is of the nature of a Biblical play. It will be presented on April 11, for the benefit of the members of the lodge and their families and friends. The date set for the play will be the 102nd anniversary of the Order, and a committee was appointed at Tuesday night's meeting composed of S. H. Hurley, A. W. Haines and Frank Saets who will arrange plans for the anniversary program.

REV. C. P. PROUDFIT CALLED EAST BY DEATH OF MOTHER

Rev. Charles P. Proudfit, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church of this city, has been summoned from Des Moines, Iowa, where he has been conducting a series of meetings, by the death of his mother which occurred at her home in Washington, Pa., according to a telegraphic announcement received in Xenia early Wednesday. No particulars were given but it is believed that Mrs. Proudfit's death was the result of a fall which she sustained recently. Rev. Proudfit announced that he will fill his pulpit in Xenia as usual Sunday morning.

GRATEFUL WOMEN

Gratitude and appreciation for health restored by that good old fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is what prompts so many women from all parts of the country to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., the letters of praise which we publish from time to time. Women who have always had their health cannot realize what it means to others, many of whom have suffered months and even years from such ailments, and are now well and happy through the use of this natural restorative, Lydia E. RECEIVE WORD OF DEATH.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bradfield, of Dayton Avenue, have received word of the death of Mr. Bradfield's brother, Thomas Bradfield, in Richmond, Ind., Tuesday. Mr. Bradfield has been ill for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Bradfield will leave Wednesday night for Richmond, where they will attend the funeral services to be held Thursday.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

COL. E. M. HOUSE WARNED THE KAISER OF THE DANGER TWO MONTHS BEFORE INVASION OF BELGIUM.

Modern Germany was built on the success of German arms. War seemed the shortest and easiest way to achieve national aims. The war with Denmark in 1864; that with Austria in 1866, and the final assault against France in '70 apparently proved this theory. To the German mind war became a profitable and glorified adventure. By such means a unified Germany was brought into being—and finally there was a Germany grown so strong that it ceased to be cautious, and became boastful of world dominion.

At Potsdam, June 1, 1914, the mighty Teutonic empire was in full flower. At the emperor's invitation the pick of the imperial army was present. It is doubtful whether there was ever before or since such a brilliant military display. In the park and outside the palace the kaiser stood alone, apart from the royal family, and reviewed the honor men from the many regiments which went to make Germany's terrible and efficient war machine. He looked a martial and imperial figure—the embodiment of a modern war lord. Then came luncheon in the stately shell hall of the palace, and afterward a never-to-be-forgotten conference on the terrace.

It was in this conference that the writer, Col. E. M. House, pointed out to him the danger to his country and to Europe. He disclaimed belligerent intentions and declared that the imperial army was for protection only. He said the enemies of the fatherland were powerful. The bayonets of Europe were directed at Germany. For centuries his beloved land had been the battle-ground of Europe, and his people had been too weak to prevent it. Now that they were strong the trample of alien armies was no longer heard on German soil. That his intentions were pacific a record of more than forty years of peace fully testified.

During these forty years what had the accusing nations done? Great Britain had despoiled the Boers, occupied Egypt and had driven the shadow of her empire over the fairest parts of a great continent. Russia, France, Italy, Japan and the United States had not been idle, and during those forty peaceful German years had claimed vast territories for their own. Persia, Korea, Tunis, Morocco, Port Rico and the Philippines were mentioned by name.

It was the German case well and strongly put. There was some difficulty in bringing the conversation back to earth and to where it touched the present and the future rather than the past. It may be that the kaiser, his chancellor and minister for foreign affairs did not at that moment know that the hour had been named for action, but some one in Germany did know, for even then moves were being made which could mean nothing if not war.

When the memory brings back that brilliant day in June with all the pomp which surrounded this modern Caesar another picture blots it out. There comes to mind an old and shattered man, without friends and without power, on a lonely, mist-driven moor in Holland, babbling of the things of yesterday when he held within his keeping the destinies of a great and prosperous people.

E. M. HOUSE.

TAX-FREE HOUSES.

New York City has adopted a bold and direct remedy for its housing shortage. Every dwelling erected between April 1, 1920 and April 1, 1922, is to be exempted from taxation to the extent of $5,000 value for a period of 10 years.

It is expected that this measure will result in an immediate boom in construction. Reports from New York indicate that the stimulus is felt already, not only in preparations for building but in the completion of real estate deals that have been pending, in order to adjust values to the new situation.

The immediate effect will doubtless be to benefit the builders. That should be followed by a pronounced drop in rents, owing to the lower fixed charges during this tax-free decade and to the greater competition for tenants that will come with the greater number of houses.

The plan is admittedly unfair to present owners, especially those who have built or bought their homes during the present high-price era. That injustice is only partly wiped out by making the new policy retroactive to April 1 of last year, so as to give the most recent builders the benefit of it.

DOGS AND SPOONS.

Jersey City authorities have issued a decree stating that hereafter dogs may not enter restaurants, drug stores and other places where ice cream is served. It is a good order in any case, for most patrons of these places do not care to have dogs fussing around at their feet when they are absorbing the non-blue sun-ate or inhibiting the festive soda. But it seems there was more than a general reason.

An association of ice cream manufacturers protested at the frequency with which women carrying small dogs enter these places and insist upon feeding the animals from the same plate and spoon used by themselves. Naturally the patrons not quite so feeble-minded object to the process. And they are quite right.

The Jersey City people have made a move in the right direction, and their example is to be emulated wherever there is a similar danger.

But while they are about it, couldn't city councils go a step further and eliminate the mistresses along with the dogs? Isn't the sight of the woman carrying the small dog enough to take away the appetite of more normal patrons?

Germany's "place in the sun" seems to be shadowed just now by a cloud of dust raised by allies' army of occupation.

We have always been of the opinion that the straight and narrow path is the best one to pursue, but after hearing that nature's principal in landscape gardening is avoiding straight lines, we have decided to make that front walk zig-zag.

The Illinois Methodist pastor who advertised for "100 lost Methodists," should remember that in this day of automobiles and other forms of diversion, the 100 lost sheep may have gone so far that it will take an airplane to catch up with them.

Spring models in women's dress will pass the censor without any difficulty, according to one authority, so we suppose that there will be less interest in this most important of topics this season than for many past.

IT MIGHT BE WELL TO REHEARSE THAT ACT A LITTLE BEFORE PUTTING IT ON IN PUBLIC

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

The coming election promises to be a very spirited and warmly contested one and while the interest has heretofore lagged somewhat the home stretch will be exciting enough to please anyone. Besides the interest which is being manifested in the nominations for county offices and the matter of the school board members, the question of issuing bonds for the two proposed new school buildings, will altogether make the election an important one.

The contractors for the new sewer system is now getting the work well in hand and a big trench is being dug across Cincinnati Avenue. The trench has thus far been six feet in depth but owing to the height of the roadway on Cincinnati avenue, it is necessary to go down a distance of about 15 feet, making the crossing of that street quite a task.

There was a little collision of street cars on the Dayton and Xenia traction line on Saturday night. The eleven o'clock car from Dayton coming up Main street, at a lively clip could not be checked in time and ran into the local car which was standing at Detroit and Main. The jar was so great that it knocked the little car back several feet. Aside from broken headlights, there was no damage done.

Mr. Paul Hawes who left here over three years ago and who has since been in the West returned to Xenia for a month's visit and is being warmly greeted by his friends.

NUN FOUNDER OF FIRST SCHOOL FOR CHRISTIAN GIRLS IN HAWAII

Honolulu, Hawaii.—With the record of having opened the first Christian school for girls in Honolulu and educating three generations of Hawaiian girls, Sister Beatrice, of St. Andrew's Priory, in this city, died recently at the age of ninety-two years.

Sister Beatrice came to Honolulu in 1867 at the instigation of Kamehameha IV. and his consort Queen Emma, who desired that a school under the auspices of the English Church be established for Hawaiian girls. She came here with four other sisters from England, crossing the Isthmus of Panama. Of the five in the party only Sister Albertina is now living.

There had been a girls' school under Bishop Stanley at Lahaina on the island of Hawaii, some years before and this was moved to Honolulu as soon as the buildings were provided on the land, which had been given to the Church of England by King Kamehameha IV. on Ascension Day, May 30, 1867. St. Andrew's Priory School for Girls was opened and Sister Beatrice slept in one of the school buildings that night.

Since her arrival in Hawaii sister Beatrice had left the islands only once in 1901 when she journeyed to San Francisco to attend the general convention of the Episcopal Church in that city.

She was born at St. Erth, Hayle, Cornwall, England, and in early life became a member of the Sisterhood of the Holy Trinity which had been founded at Davenport.

"BAD MAN" ASKS COURT FOR TWO YEARS IN JAIL

Muskogee, Okla.—"Bad men" are still shooting up towns in Oklahoma. But styles have changed.

Frank Swift, a modern "Oklahoma bad man" is under a three-month sentence in the State penitentiary for shooting up Broadway the main street in Muskogee.

Swift rode down the thoroughfare at breakneck speed, firing dozens of shots. Although a score of buildings were struck by the spraying bullets, no person was shot. His raid had all the earmarks of the wild and woolly frontier days except—he rode on a Ford truck instead of the usual bucking broncho.

WANT INVESTIGATION

Belmont, March 22.—A delegation of local citizens, headed by Mayor Patterson, went to Wheeling to ask for an investigation relative to the death of Charles Gregg, 50, which occurred here upon his return from that city death was due to commotion of the brain.

Gregg said he was beaten and robbed in Wheeling. Coroner C. C. Hardy believed Gregg fell and sustained the injury. His valuables were intact. A mass meeting of local citizens resulted in the delegation visiting Wheeling.

MARGARET OF ANJOU

March 23, 1430

On of the most strong minded of English queens was Margaret of Anjou, daughter of the titular King of Naples. When just 14 she was betrothed to Henry VI of England and the following year was brought to England and married to him.

When she was crowned queen, she had only two friends in the country the Duke and Duchess of Suffolk, and she did not try to make any other friendships. She was clever and beautiful, but self-willed and quite the opposite of her gentle husband. She was 23 when her only son Edward was born. About the same time the king went temporarily insane. The Houses of Lancaster and York were at war for the throne and it was Margaret's energy which held up the Lancaster cause.

She had many romantic adventures in her fight for her husband and son. Once she owed her safety to the loyalty of a little boy of 14. Once she escaped from a storm at sea and drifted to land in an open row boat. Once she escaped capture because a squire on the enemy's side carried her away on his own horse. Finally she and her son reached safety through the compassionate help of a robber whom they had encountered in the forest.

For awhile she lived in France. Finally she and her son landed in England with an army. Edward was killed in the battle and she herself taken prisoner. Finally she was ransomed and returned to France where she died. She was one of the most courageous of queens but politically one of the most unwise.

THE WHALE.

The other day I saw a whale, the first my old eyes ever viewed; it frolicked on the waters pale, and made me think I must be stewed. For I was gazing out to sea, my mind concerned with fancies light, a book of verses on my knee, and not prepared for such a sight. It seemed a gay and happy fish, a very optimistic whale, and made the water go kerswish, whenever it flapped its giant tail. An ancient seaman at my side looked on, with trouble on his brow; "The whales are getting scarce," he cried, "we do not often see them now. The whale you see may be the last, where countless thousands used to lurk; they're killing off the poor things fast—machinery now does the work. The risky life seemed good to me when I fought whales, in bygone years, but now they butcher whales at sea as K. C. packers butcher steers. The good old monsters of the deep don't have a chance to keep their goats; the harvesters go forth to reap the whales as farmers harvest oats. They used to haunt this sunny coast, you'd see them any winter day; but they have yielded up the ghost, they're killed and canned and shipped away." And still the whale seemed void of care, from every dread and trouble free; it stood on end and leaped in air, and gambled in a silver sea.

MYSTERIOUS NIGHT ADVENTURE LEADS TO INVESTIGATION

The night was clear, cool and quiet.

The hours was but shortly past the mysterious time of twelve, midnight.

Suddenly the still air was rent by a scream. Jumping out of his bed, a well known resident on the Columbus pike, saw a sight that curdled his blood.

From a machine in the gray road plainly visible in the pale moonlight ten or a dozen men, were dragging a screaming helpless woman from an automobile. Even as he watched, they dragged her up the road, handling her roughly.

The peaceful citizen, slipped on his clothes, slipped a revolver in his pocket and slipped down stairs. In three distinct slips. He followed the emulators of the Ku Klux Klan to a graveyard nearby, where bathed in the indistinct moonlight, the captors tied the heroine in the plot to a tombstone and proceeded to Simon Legree her in no gentle manner.

The peaceful citizen fired into the air to frighten the Ku Klux Klansmen. His small volley was met by an answering scream of bullets that chopped the air near his head in small bits. Hitting the dirt he crawled back home and went to bed, leaving the dark business of the night for other hands.

All of this happened early Sunday morning. Sunday the Sheriff discovered traces of hair, a comb and torn clothes near the scene described by the peaceful citizen. The grass was torn up as if by scuffling. The plot audibly thickened into large, gloomy lumps.

Officials at Wilberforce University when questioned, admitted that a new student had recently entered the portals there. He is a man student. They also admitted rumors of a hazing that was held near the bewitching hour in a lonely cemetery. According to the story, the tenderfoot was dressed in feminine apparel, tied to a tombstone, made to play Uncle Tom to the Simon Legree of the hazers, and finally abandoned the mercies of the ghosts, hobgoblins, and graveyard rabbits that tradition says hang around such a place.

BITTER FEUD IS WAGED IN WEST OVER OLD DISPUTE

Craig, Colo.—One man is dead, six have been indicted in connection with sheep killings, several hundred sheep have been slaughtered, the torch has been applied to dozens of cattle pens, and cattle and sheepmen have again been divided into two hostile camps as a result of the renewal of the sheep and cattle war in Northwestern Colorado and Eastern Utah.

The armed truce that existed between the two opposing stockraising interests for the past twenty-five years, following the establishment of a "dead line" over which neither side had dared to step, has broken into open warfare that county. State and even Federal officials are experiencing much difficulty in coping with.

Renewal of Bloodshed.
Cattlemen say that the sheep interests have been responsible for the renewal of bloodshed and conditions bordering on rural anarchy, while the sheep raisers blame the cattlemen charging the latter with taking advantage of abnormal conditions resulting from the World War to break the unwritten contract that only sheep should graze on the Utah side of the imaginary "dead line."

During the World War, Utah ranchers made strenuous efforts to increase production, and lack of railroad facilities left them with a surplus of forage crops. To dispose of this surplus they made contracts with the cattlemen to feed their stock in what has been forbidden territory. The cattlemen have taken advantage of this situation to put cattle on the sheep range it is claimed.

Utah sheepmen have openly stated that they would force the cattlemen to open all the free range in Northwestern Colorado to stock of all kinds. Three times within the past year they have endeavored to insert an entering wedge by throwing small bands of sheep across the boundary line into Colorado.

On the first occasion seven masked men rode into the sheep camp of Snellen Johnson, or Vernal, between Skull Creek and Red Wash, in southwestern Moffat County. The invaders bound the shepherders and clubbed 350 head of ewes and lambs to death.

Shepherd Murdered.
Sometime later the sheepmen again put their stock on the range in the same vicinity. For a month they were not molested, but then one night another masked party opened fire on the herders from the darkness. John Durnett, of Craig, in charge of the sheep camp, was killed by a high-powered rifle bullet. Part of the sheep were killed and the remainder were scattered on the range to become the victims of predatory animals.

Sheriff Sam Mosier and Coroner J. G. Clayton investigated the killing of Durnett. Their attempts to secure evidence, however, was blocked. The sheepmen at the scene of the shooting were apparently reluctant to have the affair handled by the authorities. J. E. Price, father-in-law of the dead herder, testified that eleven men were in the party that attacked the camp but he declined to identify any of the raiders. It was openly stated by many residents of western Moffat County that Price suppressed the names of several prominent cattle raisers through fear.

The Federal Grand Jury, sitting at Pueblo, returned indictments against six well-known Moffat and Rio Blanco County cattlemen in connection with sheep killings. They were arrested, but quickly gave bond.

In January three men were arrested on a charge of horse stealing preferred by John W. Spencer, of Willow Creek. They were acquitted after a trial in this city. Charles Mantle, one of the men acquitted who runs cattle close to the Utah line, charged that the arrest was a "frame up" by Jensen, Utah, men who were trying to "run him out of the country." Mantle declared that he had been warned that it would "be healthy for him" to leave the country.

Recently reports came from the Blue Mountain section of Moffat County, where former depredations have been committed, that sheepmen had massed another band of sheep on the line and started to push them onto the cattle range. The sheep camp was visited by two armed men, disguised with long white beards, and the shepherders ordered back into Utah immediately.

Desultory outbreaks between the warring sheep and cattlemen are occurring almost weekly, and authorities are making every effort to control the situation before further casualties result.

Established "Dead Line."

Twenty-five years ago all of Northwestern Colorado was in a continual state of warfare over sheep and cattle. A score of stockraisers were killed in pistol and gun duels over the "rights" of the two animals. At that time the territory which is now Moffat County openly favored the cattlemen. When it was reported that a large band of sheep protected by an armed escort of thirty gunmen, hired by the sheep interests, were coming into Moffat County, practically every able-bodied man in Craig seized a rifle and met the invaders on the Iron Springs divide. The attackers were taken by surprise and surrendered. A conference was held and the famous "dead line" established. Colorado was to be cattle territory, exclusively. It was decided.

For a quarter of a century this truce had been observed, except for minor outbreaks when violation of the pact resulted in the burning of pens, destruction of camps and killing of sheep.

In the spring of 1920, however, a large flock of sheep was turned onto the range near Maybell, Colo. Despite the vigorous protests of cattlemen against this so-called "sheep invasion," no action was taken at the time and the outbreak of sheep killing, pen burning and murder followed within a few months.

Schinkel Goes To Jail

THE first martyr in the wall paper industry was one Herran Schinkel, a Dutch printer, who was brought to trial in 1568 for printing roses and stripes on the back of ballad paper. It was considered sacrilegious. Today wall paper is accepted by everyone as the cheapest, cleanest, and most durable of all wall coverings. Come to our store today and let us show you the great progress that has been made in wall paper manufacture since poor Schinkel's trial.

WORD "NOW" OUGHT TO BE GIVEN BIG PLACE IN OUR LIVES

"The word, now, ought to occupy a large place in every life and in all our work. The sin of neglect is widespread in extent and powerful in its influence. To put off the performance of a known duty from day to day weakens character and hinders work. To do promptly one's work, gives strength for the task and joy in its performance," stated Rev. G. A. Scott of the First Methodist Church in his sermon Tuesday night upon "The Joy of Endeavor."

Tuesday night's audience filled the church, to hear Rev. Scott's sermon which was taken from Second Corinthians, "Behold now is the accepted time, behold now is the day of salvation," Dr. Scott said in part:

"To decisively meet all the demands that each day brings, gives a victorious life. To finish thoroughly by the work of each day clears the way for the work of the next day. Some people are always expecting to be happy some day. Happiness should be now. Some hope to do great things tomorrow. Our need is to live greatly today. Multitudes are putting off the day of salvation until some bright time in the future. Now is the favorable time to find salvation from sin and let the love of God fill the heart and control the life."

Thus Rev. Scott applied the need of salvation to the need of human happiness and welfare, making a human appeal in his statement that to gain what is beneficial, one must endeavor and strive to reach it.

Mr. Hackleman's solo Tuesday night was "Two Lives." "I Saw Him Hanging on The Tree" the solo announced for Tuesday night, was not given, and will be given at the Friday night service. On Wednesday night Mr. Hackleman will give a hymn study, upon William Cowper the English poet, and John Newton the hymn writer. An illustrated solo "The Hill Alone and Grey" will be accompanied by 30 colored slides.

DON'T GET UP NIGHTS

You May Have Gravel Like This Day—ton, Man. Try This Simple Remedy.

Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton, Ohio, says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The scalding and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of lithiated buchu, the gravel came, until at least twenty five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of all abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs, which are necessary for prompt relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, frequent desire, gravel and other deposits of the bladder.

Be sure to get the Keller formula lithiated buchu at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and drug stores everywhere.

ROBBED IN SALOON

Columbus, March 23.—In view of the fact that dry amendments have been adopted to the federal and Ohio constitutions, the following information, made public at local police headquarters, is quite interesting: Goldie Clayton, 20 Ide Terrace filed a complaint with the police, stating that she was robbed in a saloon of a watch, lavalliere and pin.

Ohio Woman Says Tanlac Built Her Up Wonderfully—Troubles Overcome.

"I was so awfully run down and weak I could hardly sweep the floor without giving out, but Tanlac has built me up so wonderfully I can do all the housework without getting tired," said Mrs. Ernest Seebers, 262 South Third St., Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. "I just seemed to be growing weaker day by day," he continued, "and my back just ached continually. My stomach was badly disordered, my appetite was poor and I would bloat up so I just had to gasp for breath. My nerves were so shattered I became almost hysterical at times, and I was continually having severe headaches. Why, it seemed that my head was never free from pain."

"But now I feel splendid in every way and am surprised how wonderfully Tanlac has helped me in such a short time. My back doesn't hurt me one bit and I am free from nervousness and headaches. I have a good appetite and never have a touch of stomach trouble. I just seem to have new strength and energy, and I take pleasure in doing what I can to let others know about Tanlac." Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill; in Yellow Springs by A. Finley; Bowersville, N. K. Bowermeister; Fairfield, Paul P. Young; Osborn, C. J. Logsdon; New Burlington, W. C. Smith.

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes wornout, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

Edison reveals voice secrets

ONLY 22 singers, out of 3,800, sing pure notes.

Many popular opera and concert stars have serious defects in their voices.

"Stage-personality" enables many a singer of poor voice to gain success as an operatic star.

These amazing facts are told by Mr. Edison in a recent interview on "The Imperfections of the Human Voice." Ask for a copy.

COUNTY MAY GET NEW SMITH HUGHES FARMING SCHOOL

The establishment of another Smith Hughes agricultural school in this county, is forecast in the visit of S. F. Stewart, of the State Agricultural Extension Department, to this county Wednesday.

Mr. Stewart visited Ross Township where the establishment of the second agricultural school is being contemplated. The first school in the county is now located at Beaver Creek, where it has proved exceedingly popular for students taking up this important branch.

The Smith-Hughes agricultural school, is known as the "college in a corn field." It brings to boys of high school age, the advantage of a college course in agriculture, offering them the best in a four year course to instruct them in the proper culture of the soil. The Smith-Hughes Bill, which provides the schools, makes it possible for the State to furnish 80 per cent of the cost of supporting the school.

The schools offer a four-year, all-year-round course. The instructor is employed twelve months in the year, and while six months of that time is devoted to school or text-book study the other six months are devoted to the practical side of soil culture with the instructor acting as an overseer inspecting the work and progress of each student.

L. J. TABER WILL BE SPEAKER AT GRANGE MEETING

Honorable L. J. Taber, State Grange Master, and one of the biggest agriculturists in the state, whose name has been frequently mentioned as a gubernatorial possibility, will be the speaker at the meeting of Greene County Pomona Grange to be held at the Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall, here next Wednesday, March 30.

It is planned to make the Grange meeting the biggest and most important of its nature the local organization has over held and Grange members all over the county are showing unusual interest in the plans.

The Grange meeting will open promptly at ten o'clock in the morning according to the present program, and the business session will continue until 11:15 o'clock when the fifth degree will be conferred in full form on a large class. At 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the Grange will open in the fourth degree and all Grangers are urged to be present.

The Grange Lecturer has arranged an interesting program for the afternoon session of the meeting, and the prominent of Grange Master Taber as a farm leader will undoubtedly stimulate one of the largest meetings in point of attendance that the local Grange has ever held.

PLAN ERECTION OF ONE ROOM SCHOOL BUILDINGS SOON

The erection of new one room school buildings in Beaver Creek township, and the repairing and erection of additions to the old buildings, was decided upon at a special session of the Beaver Creek Board of Education held Tuesday evening.

The decision was arrived at following the hearing of the architect's report, and the board immediately instructed him to proceed with the work of planning the new buildings, and additions, and to submit estimates in order that bonds may be issued to defray the cost and the work started at an early date.

The changes now to be undertaken by the Beaver Creek Board were ordered by the State Inspector of Buildings last summer. The Board, however, thought it a better and more economical plan to erect one large school building and ordered a vote taken on centralization at the general election in November.

The centralization plan was lost by 48 votes, forcing the hand of the board in spending half of what the cost would have been to erect a new centralized school, in building the new one-room buildings and making improvements to the old structures.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MORTON

MENU HINT

Breakfast. Stewed Prunes. Rolled Oats. Pancakes. Maple Syrup. Coffee.

Luncheon. Escalloped Eggs. Baking Powder Biscuit with Black Raspberry Jelly. Lettuce Salad. French Dressing. Peaches. Tea.

Dinner. Cream of Celery Soup. Meat Loaf. Brown Gravy. Baked Potatoes. Creamed Cabbage. Plain Bread Pudding with Lemon Sauce. Bread and Butter. Coffee.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Bread Pudding—One quart milk scalded and cooled, two eggs, two cups dry bread crumbs, one-quarter teaspoon salt, two-thirds cup sugar, one teaspoon flavoring. Soak bread in milk for one-half hour; beat together eggs, salt, sugar and flavoring; add this to the bread and milk and pour into a buttered baking dish and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Lemon Sauce—Mix one-half cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, one-half teaspoon lemon extract or grated rind and juice of one-half lemon, one tablespoon butter and one cup of boiling water; cook three minutes.

Lettuce Salad—Thoroughly wash and chill lettuce and just before serving marinate with French dressing. Measure six tablespoons of olive oil and two tablespoons of vinegar. Mix one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-quarter teaspoon cayenne pepper dry. Beat into these slowly the oil and gradually the vinegar. This should be thick and creamy, the oil being entirely emulsified.

BREAKFAST SUGGESTIONS.

Corn Griddle Cakes—One can corn, two tablespoons cream, salt and pepper, two eggs, two tablespoons flour. Mix ingredients, adding whites of eggs, beaten stiff, last. Drop by spoonfuls on a heated and buttered griddle.

Ham and Toast—Allow one beaten egg to each cupful of chopped ham. Put a little butter in a pan, add the ham and beat thoroughly. Stir the beaten egg in lightly; get it very hot, but do not harden the egg. Season and serve on slices of toast.

To Make Good Coffee—Mix one fresh egg well through six tablespoons coffee. Put this in coffee pot, adding about eight cups of boiling water. Let sit on hot stove, without boiling, for about fifteen minutes.

The next day three tablespoons can be added to the grounds of the first day's coffee, and adding the same amount of water.

This makes delicious coffee, and is always good when heated without boiling, and as eggs are now cheap, one egg does not cost much, seeing how many cups of coffee is made with one egg.

TRY THESE

Attach a curtain rod with curved ends to the wall at the bottom of the clothes closet about seven inches from the floor and hang your shoes on this by the heel.

When greasing a cake tin for baking, pure lard or sweet oil is much to be preferred to butter. Care should be taken not to use too much oil. A thin, even coating is desirable.

On baking days fill the oven to full capacity and save fuel.

The installation of heating and ventilating systems, will be included in the repairs to be undertaken, to make the buildings on a standard with the state building code.

It is now understood, that there is considerable objection to the plan of spending this money on the old buildings and for the erection of new one-room buildings, the agitation

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Feel Old?

Overwork, worry, anxiety or sorrow undermines strength and health. These causes contribute to kidney trouble, and weak or diseased kidneys make one feel old in middle age.

Foley Kidney Pills

help weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder so that the system is free from waste and poisonous matter that causes one to feel old, tired, languid. They banish backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints.

Mrs. J. D. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For many years I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had a severe backache and felt miserable and all played out. I got to a place where I had to do something. After taking two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills I can say my backache is gone, and where I used to lay awake at night with rheumatic pains I can now sleep in comfort and enjoy a good night's rest."

"She has had a sad experience, poor girl," his voice full of sympathy. "She isn't responsible if men fall in love with her and then make fools of themselves."

I recalled that Mrs. Baker said she had tried to exonerate herself with the press in just those words, and I smiled. I couldn't help it. She had played upon Dick's sympathies, had made him believe she was the innocent victim of her own beauty. Could anything be more intriguing to a male mind?

"She has never been understood by those around her," Dick continued, so bearing out my impression of what Juanita had told him. "A woman of her sort, a beauty lover, unconventional, clever, never is understood—especially by other women. Mrs. Baker is a very nice sort but no more able to appreciate a character like Juanita, a woman all soul, all beauty, than Junior is."

I longed to reply that Junior appreciated Juanita all right, that in his boyish way he had learned to distrust the woman whom his father admired so much that he neglected that boy's mother for her. But what use was it to say anything to an infatuated man? He must be cured of infatuation, not encouraged.
